

Down and Dirty with Goffstown

April 2012

By: Mike Hillhouse, Assistant Director

Everything this year seems to be ahead of schedule in terms of the season. Street sweeping, for instance, is typically a May ritual. With the lack of a real winter we got a jump on things and got that out of the way this past month.

NHDOT inspects the bridges in Town periodically. In March of this month they sent their inspection team down to the Henry Bridge. They've got a special rig they use to get on the bridge and have a look underneath with a camera. DPW has full control for them while they perform this inspection. Flanders keeps things moving along while they work.
