

May 1, 2012--Purple prism traps resembling box kites will be seen in New Hampshire ash trees again this year as part of the national emerald ash borer (EAB) survey with help from state and private agencies. (For Full Article Click HERE )